Top Speller Miss Osborne Does It Again

Debbie has done it again. Miss Debbie Osborne, the seventh-grade spelling whiz from Kives, for the second year in a row has captured the Obion County Spelling Bee. Friday afternoon in the circuit courtroom, the petite young lady methodically spelled down all 12 of the other representatives to earn her second trip to the Mid-South Spelling Bee to be held on April 25. Each year the various elementary schools select their top spellers from grades 6-8. As a sixth grader, Miss Osborne spelled down all opponents last year and now, as a seventh grader, she has made a repeat performance, despite the fact that she had been home sick in bed and was running a fever during the match. She is the daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Roy Osborne of Kives. The second place speller was Betty Townsend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Townsend of Union City. She is a student at Westover. The third place winner was Lynne Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barker of South Fulton. Betty went out of the match when she missed the word, "ridiculous." The winner spelled this word and then to capture the honor spelled the next word, "twentieth," correctly.

Safe In Jail

WILLIAMS, Airz. — The Williams jail had unusual lodgers when an art show came to town. Chamber of Commerce Manager Bob Sharp and City Manager Mike McNulty were worried about $50,000 worth of paintings from Taos, N.M., in Williams for a week before a weekend art carnival. They agreed that the safest place for the treasures was the local pokey.

THE RIVES SPELLING WHIZ—Little Debbie Osborne (center) Friday afternoon, for the second year in a row, won the Obion County Spelling Bee and thus won another trip to the Mid-South Spelling Bee in Memphis on April 25. In second place was Betty Townsend (left) and third was Lynne Brown. Giving out the words was Mrs. M. R. McNeill. (See Story Below)

Charge Plan To Be Adopted At Kentucky Resort Parks

FRANKFORT, Ky.—Gov. Louie B. Nunn announced today that guests at Kentucky state resort parks soon will be able to charge such items as lodging, meals and gift shop purchases through the BankAmericard credit plan.

The new service will be available beginning April 1.

"By allowing families to spread out the cost of a Kentucky vacation over a period of months, we feel that more families will have an opportunity to use and enjoy our parks facilities," Gov. Nunn said. Prior to the change, guests have had to pay cash for these items at time of purchase or when they checked out.

Parks Commissioner Robert Gable said the new service "will strengthen Kentucky's reputation for having the leading state park system in America."

"Keeping pace with changes in the nation's spending habits, ours is the first state park system to adopt a credit plan and I feel that others are certain to follow Kentucky's lead," Gable said.

"We talked to a number of credit card companies and this one offered us the most attractive package," Gable added. "We chose BankAmericard because of its nation-wide distribution of cards, and because it is available free of charge to anyone with a satisfactory credit rating. There are more than 17 million BankAmericard holders across virtually all 50 states, and more than 300,000 here in Kentucky alone.

"Forms necessary to apply for this credit card are readily available from any of the more than 9,000 Kentucky merchants who honor BankAmericards."

Gable continued, "Of particular benefit to the state will be the national publicity planned by the BankAmericard people heralding the Kentucky Parks System as the first in the nation to extend this credit service. This will support our efforts to encourage Kentuckians and visitors from other places to spend their vacation dollars in Kentucky."

Gable continued, "We hope by freeing vacationers and business travelers from the limits imposed by the amount of cash they are carrying, it will encourage them to spend even more money while traveling in Kentucky, especially in and around the parks."

"We believe the additional service of honoring this international credit card is just another step of modernizing our entire parks system and in making tourist traveling Kentucky more convenient for the visitor and more profitable for our state," Gable concluded.

Parks scheduled to honor the cards are as follows:

John James Audubon State Park, Buckhorn Lake State Resort Park, Carter Caves State Resort Park, Cumberland Falls State Resort Park, General Butler State Resort Park, Jenny Wiley State Resort Park, Kenlake State Resort Park, Kentucky Dam Village State Resort Park, Lake Cumberland State Resort Park, Natural Bridge State Resort Park, Pennyville Forest State Resort Park, Pine Mountain State Resort Park and Rough River Dam State Resort Park.

Westvaco Corp. Firm's New Name

NEW YORK—West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. has changed the name it had been using for 80 years to Westvaco Corp.

The new name is one that has been identified with the company for nearly as many years as it has been in existence, Westvaco having long been used as a brand name and trademark. "Although we have a deep attachment for our old name," said President David L. Luke III, "we had to face up to the fact that West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. no longer describes the scope of our business."

He pointed out that the company had moved into new fields beyond the manufacture of traditional pulp and paper products and is operating in 22 states in this country, as well as in Australia, Belgium and Brazil.

Everett Fund Given Boost

Despite the fact that the Obion County campaign to raise funds for the Robert A. 'Pats' Everett Memorial Fund was launched officially only this week, contributions already are pouring in. Mayor Charles 'Red' Adams today released the names of a number of individuals and firms which already have contributed. While the amounts contributed were not released for publication, it was known that at least five contributions were for $100 and more, while six others were for $50 each.

"With such a fine response after only a few days, leaders of the memorial fund already are greatly encouraged," Mayor Adams, president of the foundation, commented today.

Organizations are being established in each of the 14 counties in the Eighth Congressional District and, although no firm goal has been established, the memorial fund has announced ambitious goals.

One is the erection of a statue of the late Union City congressman, probably on the east lawn of the county courthouse in Union City. Another is one or more annual scholarships to the University of Tennessee at Martin School of Nursing, yet to be established, and one or more general scholarships to Murray State University at Murray, Ky., Rep. Everett's alma mater.

"The important thing is to be able to get as much money as possible," Mayor Adams explained. "Then we will see just how far it will go toward completing our goals."

Among Obion Countians who already have made contributions, ranging from a low of $1 to in excess of $100, are the following:

Royce Barker, Robert Goff, Coy Robinson, Jerry White, Road Builders Equipment Company (Union City), Mrs. Edwin Stone, Marie Whitfield, W. O. McNeill, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Walker, Kinkead Industries, Dr. Charles Denaburg, Cowden and Hairston, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Root, Seth Harper, William A. Cappe, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jefferson, Hanafree Bros. Sawmill Company, Ray and Dan Dunn's Body Shop, Union City Duplicate Bridge Club, William R. Nanney, Will Garrison, John William Simrell, Leon Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Anderson, Mrs. A. L. Burrus, Mrs. John Jackson, the Rev. and Mrs. Scott Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John Heatherly, W. P. Doran, R. C. Tilghman, E. M. Tucker, O. G. Crenshaw, Grace Hudson, Storey Sawmill and Lumber Company, Sheriff T. C. McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. Ted L. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hammond, Mrs. Inez Bucher, H. H. Newsom, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hammond and Otis Parrish.

Out-of-town contributions have been received from WPSD-TV, Paducah; Fred Jolley, Fulton; Eddie Davis, RoEllen; Mrs. Edna J. Simmons, Martin; Judge James H. Smith, Tiptonville; Road Builders Equipment Company, Memphis; Vernon Jones, Route 4, Martin; Haywood Jonakin, Route 2, Fulton; and James Odum, Route 2, Fulton.

Agriculture Department Revamped

FRANKFORT, Ky. Agriculture Commissioner J. Robert Miller has replaced his department's eight divisions with a system of two deputy commissioners administering four functional programs.

Miller announced the reorganization Tuesday, saying he was following recommendations of the Efficiency Task Force.

Previously each of the eight divisions had its own director.

The new deputy commissioners are Danny H. Branstetter, 28, administrative services and information and promotion; and R. E. Palmore, 47, marketing and services and regulatory services.

'Insight '69' Tickets On Sale At Murray State

MURRAY, Ky. Tickets for "Insight 1969," a symposium at Murray State University to educate and to expose students to prevalent ideas in today's society, are now on sale.

Melissa Trevathan of Murray, sophomore at Murray State and chairman of the ticket committee for the March 31-April 2 program, said tickets may be ordered by writing to: Insight Tickets, Box 1001, University Station, Murray, Kentucky, 42071.

Scheduled for 8 p.m. on each date in the university auditorium, the program will feature comedian and civil rights activist Dick Gregory March 31; satirist and cartoonist-creator Al Capp April 1; and Georgia State Senator Julian Bond and news commentator Sander Vanocur April 2.

Admission prices for the entire series are $2.50 for students and $3.50 for non-students. Tickets for individual sessions are $1 for students and $2 for non-students. The Gregory lecture is open only to students, faculty and staff at Murray State.

Sponsored by the Murray State University student government, the program is centered around a theme of the "Rights and Responsibilities of Man." Each speaker will discuss a different area of rights during the three-day symposium.

More than 75 students and faculty members divided into 13 committees have planned and executed all details of the lecture series. Committees named include these: executive, steering, tickets, financial, research, public relations, publicity, program, production, correspondence, delegate, hospitality and security.

Former Governor Clement Sued For Divorce

FRANKLIN, Tenn. Mrs. Frank G. Clement has filed divorce proceedings against the former Tennessee governor. Records in the office of Circuit Court Clerk Joe Herbert show that Lucille Christianson Clement filed a divorce bill against Frank Goad Clement on Feb. 21.

Shortly before Clement left office as governor, he built a fashionable home just south of Brentwood, north of here.

The only record of the divorce proceedings is on the appearance docket for circuit. However, WAGG Radio said as grounds for divorce, the bill alleges that prolonged absences from home by Clement constitute cruel and inhuman treatment.

Summons in the suit was issued the same day the divorce bill was filed and were served three days later on Clement. Maclean P. Davis Jr., a Nashville lawyer, was listed as the attorney for Mrs. Clement. Dave Alexander of Franklin represents the former governor.

No date has been set for the divorce suit to be heard in circuit court.

Clement served as Tennessee governor for 10 years, from 1952-58 and 1962-66. A native of Dickson, Tenn., he was defeated in 1966 in his bid to become U.S. senator by Sen. Howard R. Baker, R-Tenn.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Missing and Presumed Dead

One fine morning Watson kissed his wife, departed for the office and dropped out of sight. Years passed with no clue to his whereabouts. Finally Mrs. Watson, despairing of his return, put in a claim for her missing husband's life insurance.

But the insurance company refused to pay off without "proof of death." Mrs. Watson promptly took the matter to court.

"Seven years have gone by without any sign of my husband," she argued. "Surely he must be dead."

This made sense to the court, which ordered the insurance company to pay her claim. The judge said:

"A normal person will not, if alive, remain away from his home for seven years without communicating with his family or friends."

By and large, courts follow this "seven-year rule." That is, they accept a presumption of death after seven years of unexplained absence.

But the absence must indeed be unexplained. The presumption does not apply if there is some other logical explanation, besides death, for the person's disappearance.

Thus, another wife's attempt to collect her husband's life insurance was denied, even though she had not heard from him for eight years. The court noted that the missing man had abandoned his family once before, that he was a fugitive from justice, and that his girl friend had vanished at the same time—all good reasons for him to "lie low."

Nor does the presumption of death apply if there has been no reasonable effort to locate the missing person. For example, a court refused to presume that an absent husband was dead, when it appeared that his wife had not even bothered to ask her in-laws if they knew where he was.

Suppose that, after the presumption has been accepted and the insurance paid, the "dead" man turns up alive. In a case where that did happen, the wife was required to refund the money to the insurance company.

The court could see no justice in letting her keep both her husband and his life insurance.

"We must stop riots and rising crime. Certainly gun control is not the answer. I will introduce a bill in the U.S. Congress to impose a minimum and mandatory five year jail sentence on anyone convicted of robbery, murder, or other violent crimes, where a firearm was used."

"We must halt inflation. We must stop these foreign giveaway programs and halt the deficit spending sponsored by the Lyndon Johnson administration. We must stop the erosion of our dollar's buying power."

"We must stop these anarchist-led student revolts. Law breaking demonstrations on our college campuses must end. Our young people must be protected from these subversives who would fill our text books with courses that seek to destroy America."

This is Leonard Dunavant

- He is active in church work. Served as church Sunday School superintendent, music director, and is a board member of First Methodist Church of Millington, Tennessee.

- Active in civic work. Former scout master, past President of his local Rotary Club, named Man of the Year by his Chamber of Commerce.

- Believes strongly in public service. Served 12 years as Alderman, 5 years on the Planning Committee of the City of Millington.

- An experienced businessman and legislator. Served on Agriculture Committee and Fiscal Review Committee of Tennessee State Legislature. Took the lead and designed the plan to cut Governor's budget in 1967. Now serves as Chairman of Tennessee Legislation House Finance Ways and Means Committee. As such, will play leading role in budget control.

Nursing Course Is Completed

Thirty-seven registered nurses, representing 13 hospitals, nursing homes and health departments from this area of Tennessee and Kentucky, have completed a course on Nursing Management of the Stroke Patient held over a six-week period, according to Mrs. Billie Dickerson, director of nursing services at Obion County General Hospital where the course was conducted.

The objectives of the course, Mrs. Dickerson explained, were to strengthen the leadership abilities of the nurse through a more thorough understanding of the illness and to improve the clinical abilities of the nurse in the rehabilitative care of the stroke patient.

The course was conducted by Miss Ruth H. Bryce, nurse consultant for the Memphis Regional Medical Program and professor at the University of Tennessee College of Nursing, assisted by Miss Jean Griffin.

The final phase of the instruction concentrated on extended care. This, Miss Dickerson explained, included preparing the stroke victims for maximal self-dependency in feeding, grooming and dressing activities; the use of adaptive equipment; the use of orthodontic devices; preparing the patient and his family for home care; and the continuity of care through planning, referral and collaboration.

The agencies which had nurses at the course included: The Dyer County Health Department, Parkview Hospital at Dyersburg, Wesley County Nursing Home at Dresden, Gibson County Health Department at Trenton, Fulton County Health Department at Hickman, Ky., Lauderdale County General Hospital at Ripley, Henry County General Hospital at Paris, Henry County Health Department, Volunteer General Hospital at Martin, Regional Health Department at Jackson, Hickman County Health Department at Clinton, Ky., the Obion County Health Department and the Obion County General Hospital.

House OKs Election Of Lt. Governor

NASHVILLE — The House adopted today and sent to the Senate a resolution seeking to amend the State Constitution to allow popular election of a full-time lieutenant governor.

The resolution now must be adopted three times in the Senate this year and three times in each House in 1971 before being submitted to voters in 1974.

The change in the constitution would become effective with the 1978 gubernatorial election if approved by the voters.

The lieutenant governor currently is elected by the Senate from its own membership.

A bill which would delay by six months, until next Jan. 1, the effective date of the Medicaid program in Tennessee was introduced in the House today by Rep. Tom Jensen, R-Knoxville.

Jensen said the purpose of the bill is to give Congress power to amend the Medicaid law, which he said now is forcing some states into near bankruptcy.

The result of the delay would mean Tennessee's contribution for the 1969-70 fiscal year would be reduced from about $7 million to about $3 million. Medicaid will provide medical service for those Tennesseans receiving welfare payments. More than 75 per cent of the cost of the program is paid by the federal government.

The first hint of discontent over banking bill has cropped up in the Tennessee Legislature. An attempt by sponsors to get an immediate vote on a bill amending regulations on banks failed Tuesday when several members objected that they had not had time even to read the 103-page bill.

And other legislators sharply questioned banking representatives on the effect of a bill raising the maximum interest rate to 10 per cent and allowing

Start Now To Put Yourself In Shape

Your doctor recognizes the importance of exercise to health. The American Medical Association points out that exercise, or lack of it, is often a significant factor in the control of obesity, diabetes, heart and circulatory problems, orthopedic disease and emotional disorders.

Fitness developed through vigorous activity and exercise can be preventive, as well as therapeutic, in nature.

In a positive sense, health includes abundant energy and vitality. A healthy person is physically fit when he can perform his daily work and tasks without undue fatigue, maintain adequate reserves of energy to enjoy recreational activities and leisure, and meet the challenge of unexpected demands. These might be running to catch a train, quickly climbing several flights of stairs, shoveling snow, or jacking up the car to change a tire.

Can you go up several flights of stairs without severe discomfort, chest pain, or having to stop before you reach the top? You would expect to be puffing a little at the top, but this should subside soon if you are reasonably fit.

The best exercise is doing something physically active which you enjoy, with the exercise part secondary. If you enjoy swimming or tennis, or handball, these are excellent sports for exercising most of the body. Golf is good for the tired businessman. Most of us, however, find it difficult to exert the mental discipline to keep at a program of daily calisthenics purely for the sake of exercise.

If you have had little or no exercise for years, be cautious about plunging immediately into active sports. Work up to strenuous exercise gradually.

There are simple tests by which your doctor can determine the extent of your physical fitness. If you flunk the tests miserably, and many of us will, then ask your doctor to prescribe a simple, daily exercise program to help you get back in shape.

LEWIS LLEWELLYN

Who Has Right To Break Law?

Who can remember clear back to the time when all school teachers, college professors, and ministers were united behind the principle that laws should be obeyed by all the people?

Now we have the unprecedented situation—unprecedented in this country, at least—that schools have been closed because of teachers' striking in defiance of a state law (in New York); a college has been shut down because of violent protests by students, supported by some faculty members (in California); and a member of Congress feels that it has become necessary for him to say, "When a church states that rioters should not be condemned, we face a cultural security problem."

When, in all our history, has there been a comparable breakdown in respect for the law?

Unsafe to Go to Church?
In Washington, D. C., a church has announced that it is considering moving from its present location because of the hazards faced by its members in attending services.

Women members of the church have been attacked, near the church building. One was beaten and had her purse snatched from her as she was about to enter the building.

Chairs have been stolen from the church and windows have been broken.

Where is this church located? On Capitol Hill, not far from the place where the U. S. Congress meets.

Remembering that some clergymen have been willing to condone rioting and other misdeeds in certain cases, one might be tempted to say that "chickens have come home to roost." But there is no indication that the pastor of this church was engaged in any such loose interpretation of rights and wrongs.

In fact, it is doubtful that any clergyman would approve of the kind of behavior which some of the residents of the area have engaged in.

Break Some Laws?
But, when a man states that it is all right to break some laws, of which he does not approve, isn't it obvious that another man may prefer to break other laws, which he considers inconvenient or undesirable?

The Bible says, "Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake . . . As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God."

In his syndicated column, David Lawrence asked, some time ago, "Will churchgoers in America have to be armed in order to defend themselves as they go to and from places of worship?"

This may have been necessary in the days of the early settlers of the country, when marauding Indians could be expected to attack a party of colonists going to or from church, but surely it should not be so now.

Let us all stand where the Bible stands on law enforcement—and the land will be safe for law-abiding citizens. Where do you stand?

BIG BOOST—An executive push was given National Wildlife Week in Kentucky when Governor Louie B. Nunn addressed League of Kentucky Sportsmen at a kickoff dinner held in Frankfort. Examining Wildlife Week posters with the governor are league president John Osborne and Ed Thompson, Louisville, Wildlife Week chairman.

National Wildlife Week Theme--'Provide Habitat'

"Provide Habitat — Places Where Wildlife Live" is the best theme that could have been provided for National Wildlife Week, claim dedicated conservationists who know the problems of the shortage of wildlife habitat in this and other states, says Minor Clark, commissioner, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. These conservationists know full well that there is one basic way to increase or at least hold populations of wildlife and that is through provision of food and cover for them. Law enforcement, anti-pollution agencies and curbs on injurious insecticides, for instance, are remedial to be sure, but without places to live wildlife is lost, Clark says.

And so The National Wildlife Federation has hit on a subject which is high on the priority list of those genuinely concerned with the declining populations of wild birds and animals and fishes.

A clincher to the "Provide Habitat" theme which should be sounded throughout the year and not merely during "Wildlife Week," which is designated as March 16-22, is offered in Kentucky by a game management project that was started in 1961 on a 919 acre tract of the West Kentucky Wildlife Management Area located near Paducah, Clark says. Under this project rabbit habitat was to be provided for the area and a controlled rabbit hunt, with a season almost twice as long as the statewide season, was to be held. Legumes favorable to rabbits and cover in which they could hide were provided and under the eyes of Kentucky biologists a rigid check on the entire project was kept, year in and year out.

Each year the number of rabbits taken by the registered hunters has increased over that of the previous year, although the number of hunters has also steadily increased, applying more pressure on the rabbits.

Results of the project are contained in a detailed report by Joe Bruna, Kentucky Wildlife biologist. In the initial year 311 hunters killed 157 rabbits on the area. In 1964, 389 hunters harvested 235 rabbits. It took the project that long to catch on among hunters as revealed in the figures for 1966-67. That year 791 hunters took 778 rabbits, while for the year 1967-68, 1,176 hunters were checked out with 1,288 rabbits.

In other words, during a seven-year span during which habitat was improved from year to year, the rabbit take increased from 157 the first year to 1,288 the seventh year, and the rabbits killed per acre increased from

.17 to 1.4 after the seven years. This project proves beyond a doubt that wildlife will respond to favorable habitat.

Fulton Woman Hurt In Mishap

A Route 4, Fulton woman was injured and another driver charged after a car and pickup truck collided at Reelfoot and Miles avenues about 4:25 p. m. Wednesday, police reported today.

Mrs. Doris A. Champion, driver of a 1963 Volkswagen, was taken to Fulton Hospital for treatment of a neck injury. William A. Michael of Paris, who was driving a 1969 Ford half-ton truck, was charged with following too close.

Police said both vehicles were traveling east on Reelfoot when Mrs. Champion stopped for the traffic light and was struck by the following pickup truck. Damage to the back end of the Volkswagen was estimated at $150, and to the right front fender and bumper of the truck at $75.

This Week We Feature..

To The Voters Of Fulton County

DEAR FRIENDS:

I am today making my formal announcement as a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Fulton County. Although I have been seeing as many people as time permitted, I have now resigned my full-time position as salesman for the Stokes Chevrolet Company in Hickman to devote my full time to my intention to see every voter between now and the Democratic primary on May 27, 1969.

It is my firm belief that a person who seeks a county-wide office, as I do, should be acquainted with voters in all sections of the county, without the necessity of making these contacts just during election time.

I am a resident of Cayce, where I maintained a business for four years. I have worked with and made friendships among the people of Hickman. Hardly a week passes that I am not in Fulton where I have many wonderful associations.

My wife, the former Peggy Floyd of Hickman County, is a teacher's aide in the Cayce Schools. We have two boys, ten and thirteen years of age. As a former employee of the Fulton County Road Department, I have traveled the highways and the byways in every section of the county.

I am 38 years old, with enough experience in business and civic affairs to qualify me for the office, and enough energy and enthusiasm to work with all of you to make our communities the kind of places in which to rear our children and make life safe for all of us.

I sincerely hope that you will do me the honor of giving me your own vote and will use your influence with others to elect me as Fulton County Sheriff.

Cordially,
